Dj just knew how to explain everything exactly how I thought it but in a way that could be understood.

One time at camp, dj was helping chop wood and me (amanda klemm) and my little brother, Brandon, went to get dj a brisk ice tea (cause that was his fav) and dj chugged it faster than you can blink and we were amazed at how fast he downed it and couldn't stop laughing!

I will never forget going to see 311 in concert, everytime they came to town. Everytime I hear that band play and will think of you, cousin. I remember the Blink 182 concert we went to with Cheryl and Chris, and we unknowingly wore matching superman t-shirts...Great minds think alike :) We have countless memories going up to camp, cutting the grass/cutting down trees/lighting stuff on fire/horseback riding. I could talk to you about anything and I could always count on you to be there for me when I needed you, you were an amazing person and that is an understatement. I love you so much!

POEM FOR DANIEL AMBROSE (DJ) No words I write could ever say
How sad and empty I feel today
The angels called your name today
Something that we never planned this day
DJ why did you have to go away
Was my dear sister calling your name
I love him dearly, and will watch over him now
In the heavens above he will be with me
We'll be watching over everyone we love from above but one thing is for certain
My love for you will always be true
When I cry, I'll remember the good times to comfort my heavy heart for you
Now you're in heaven
With the angels up above
Please share your warmth with all
They will give you all their love
You will be forever in my heart
Thank you for laughter and memories I hold so dear
Love, Aunt Barbara
