My Yiayia was one amazing women. She was full of love and spirit, she told you how it was, and also made you feel like everything will be alright. She supported you no matter what and loved unconditionally. She loved her family, wheel of fortune, oh the books she would read, and the money spent on the lottery (always had to play the same numbers everyday, no matter what, because if she didn't you know that is when they would come up), and watching the Cleveland Browns and Indians and the New Orleans Saints. I loved going to see a matinee with her, she would eat a whole box of popcorn before the movie even started. We would have so much fun making koulourakia and baklava. So many wonderful memories I have of her. I am truly blessed to have been able to share so many years with her and so grateful my babies were able to meet their Yiayiaka. I love you so much. My heart is heavy, but I know you will always be with me, you are at peace and with all of our loved ones. Memory Eternal. ~❤️~ We love you. Patra, James, Penelope and Vasileia ❤️
